Protexin® Careers

This is a fantastic opportunity to join one of the fastest growing companies in the probiotic industry as a Medical Representative within the Medical Affairs team. The primary focus of the role is to increase awareness of existing Protexin products, arrange meetings with healthcare practitioners, answer queries, provide advice and introduce new products. You will also be responsible for supporting a range of medical affairs projects within the company.

Protexin is a multi-award winning Company with expertise in the development, manufacture and marketing of live bacteria products. Protexin has over 20 years of experience in the field and is dedicated to creating innovative research based natural supplements of the highest quality for a global market.

Responsibilities will include:

- Work closely with the Protexin Medical Affairs department
- Organising appointments and meetings with GP, private hospital and NHS healthcare staff
- Presenting products to healthcare staff including doctors, nurses and pharmacists
- Meeting both the business and scientific needs of healthcare professionals
- Undertaking research relevant to the use of probiotics in human health
- Identify, explore and support novel research interests
- Respond to requests from healthcare professionals for medical/scientific information where appropriate
- Reviewing UK medical sales performance
- Writing reports on activity and other documents
- Attendance at congresses, conferences and scientific/medical meetings

The ideal candidate will have qualifications in life sciences, pharmacy, medicine, nursing or dentistry. Commercial awareness, sales experience, and strong interpersonal and communication skills are required. Applicants with a background in sales and the capacity to learn about scientific and medical detail are essential. Specific experience within probiotics would be advantageous.

To apply for this unique opportunity, please send your CV plus a covering letter giving details of your current salary to: Claire Rowswell, HR Manager – Claire.rowswell@protexin.com
